

Welcome to Measures Consulting

Getting your message across to the market has never been harder. Increased competition, new channels such as social media and shorter attention spans all make connecting with your audience much more complicated than ever before.

Measures Consulting is a technology/B2B PR and marketing agency that helps create the influence your organisation needs in today's marketplace. We have the flexibility and knowledge to create and deliver impactful programmes that use PR and digital marketing to achieve your business objectives across a wide range of target audiences.

Built on over 20 years experience in the technology and B2B markets, Measures Consulting is a full service agency that delivers creative and cost-effective campaigns. From copywriting to press releases and media relations, social media to marketing strategy, our senior team brings a friendly approach and transparent, collaborative way of working together.

Click on the links to find out more or contact us for a chat.

